Dear Lucy

Thanks for sending us the Scoping Report for the Grandhome development. I apologise for the delay in this response but I have been waiting on comments from our landscape advisor who has been involved in this project since it's inception. Unfortunately, she is currently on sick leave so if we have any additional comments on landscape I will forward these at a later date. I can confirm that we are generally content with the topics and methodologies proposed for inclusion within the EIA. As you're aware there have been lots of good ideas and work already carried out for this project following on from the initial charrette. We are keen that this positive approach continues and would therefore suggest that in addition to the headings already considered the following are included:

Ecology

Current mitigation is in the form of retention and protection of key habitats. We suggest that additionally the EIA considers scope for management to enhance existing features which could be used to offset impacts elsewhere on the site.

Access

We suggest that key recreational routes, both existing and aspirational, are identified at this early stage in addition to functional and linking routes with existing employment/residential areas.

I hope this is still useful.

Regards

Fiona
